THE RIGHT OF WAY.
When father drove old Dubbin,
He sat upon his load
And frowned on every chauffeur
Who wanted half the road.

When father got his auto,
His feelings seemed to switch;
He glared at every horse he met,
Unless it took the ditch.

HEMORRHAGE

Of the Lungs Caused Sudden
Death of Basil W. Tolle
Yesterday Afternoon

Mr. Basil W. Tolle, member of the contracting and building firm of Bailey & Tolle, suffered a hemorrhage of the lungs yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and on his removal to his home in East Fifth street in Coughlin's ambulance died only a few minutes after reaching his home.

Mr. Tolle was engaged at work in the rear of the Central Hotel in remodeling that structure when he was taken with the hemorrhage and Dr. Harover was hurriedly sent for. Mrs. Tolle arrived also, but it was quickly seen that he was fatally stricken, as his life's blood poured from his mouth in great gushes and his death resulted just after he was taken home.

Deceased was subject to these attacks and only recently had a violent hemorrhage, but he quickly recovered and was able to work.

Besides his wife, he leaves four children, Mrs. Leslie Woodworth of Lebanon, Ind., and Arthur of Indiana, and Ralph, of Cincinnati and one son Mr. Ambrose Tolle, of this city.

He was an industrious citizen, and his death under such sudden circumstances is much deplored.

Mr. Tolle was born in Maysville, was a member of St. Patrick's Church, DeKalb Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., Limestone Lodge No. 36, K. of P., Knights of Columbus and the Bricklayers' Union.

His funeral will take place at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Patrick's Church; burial in the Washington Cemetery.

"OLD TAYLOR"

Sued For $13,000 Worth of Whisky Barrels Never Received

Federal Judge Cochran heard pleadings on Wednesday in the case of the First National Bank of Aurora, Ind., vs. E. H. Taylor of Frankfort. John Galvin of Cincinnati, and Judge McMullen of Aurora, Ind., represented the plaintiffs and Judge E. C. O'Rear and James H. Hazelrigg of Frankfort, the defendant. The case is rather unusual in its character in that Taylor is being sued for something that he never received. Several months ago he contracted with a coöperage concern in Aurora, Ind., for $13,000 worth of barrels for which he gave his notes in advance payment. The coöperage concern sold the notes to the First National Bank of Aurora. In the meantime the coöperage company failed in business and never delivered the barrels to Taylor. The case will be completed before Judge Cochran at Frankfort on the fourth Monday of this month.

Child Born With Two Heads

With two perfectly formed heads rising from a single neck and normal body, a three days old child is engaging the attentions of physicians of Josephine Hospital, in St. Louis, Mo.

The child is the daughter of Lola Williams, 18 years old, of De Soto, Mo.

Both heads are normally formed. There are two complete sets of eyes and ears, two noses and two mouths. Wednesday it was reported that the child was living and taking nourishment. The mother was also doing well.

While twins have been born, like the famous Siamese pair, bound together by skin and ligaments, never before, it is claimed, have two bodies been merged into one as completely as in the case of the Williams child.

CINCINNATI ROADS

Are Beginning to Feel Coming Famine in Freight Cars

Railroads operating in the Cincinnati zone are beginning to feel the coming famine of freight cars that promises to be the most serious in the history of the country, despite the fact that the railroads, commercial bodies, state commissions and shippers have been making every effort possible to avert the shortage. It is hard to get cars in Cincinnati, and every railroad is reaching out in all directions to get cars to take care of customers. Other roads show a disposition to hold their cars so far as they can without getting outside the limits of the law.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

St. Louis Doctor Offers Fabulous Sum to Man Able to Restore Babies to Health

St. Louis, Mo., September 21.—Following the death of his daughter, Virginia, 7 years old, from infantile paralysis, Dr. Robert Edward Wilson, in his grief, declared he would give a fortune to any physician who would save the lives of the other three children, who are all ill of the same disease at the Wilson country home, "The Oaks," Pattonville, Mo.

"I will give $10,000 to the man who can save my children," was Dr. Wilson's cry after his daughter's death. The scene in the little girl's room was touching just before her death Saturday night. Dr. Wilson was frantic, and two other physicians who had been in attendance were so affected they had to go out of the room.

Preparations for Virginia's funeral to take place in the afternoon, were being made Monday at "The Oaks."

In a swinging bed under a canopy on the lawn, Robert Edward Wilson, Jr., 4-year-old lay critically ill, with two trained nurses in constant attendance. The other nurses were caring for the baby, Grace, 2 year old, and her sister, Ellen Marie, 11.

OUR WEEKLY SPORT LETTER

BY C. H. ZUBER.
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 5th, 1912.

The spurt made by the Reds during the past ten days has revived hope of their being able to finish in the first division. For the next few days the Phillies have on a series of three double headers with the New Yorks, while the Reds have only single games scheduled. The fact that the Giants are not yet entirely out of the woods means that Manager McGraw will take no chances in the games with the Phillies, but will have in his strongest line up in every game, so that the pennant may be cinched as early as possible, thus giving his team time to recuperate before the heavy strain of the world's series. The good work done by the Reds recently was but a return of the form shown by the team in the spring. The hitting was timely, the fielding was brilliant, the base running daring, and the pitching of the highest class. At no time in their respective careers have Fromme, Benton and Suggs pitched better baseball than they are pitching now, while the assistance given them by two or three of the young pitchers has been most gratifying. By keeping up their present gait the Reds are almost certain to finish among the first four.

New players for the Reds have been arriving during the past few days. Those now on the grounds are pitchers Doak, Gregory, Harter and Donalds, of whom Harter appears to be the class; Second Baseman Knisely and Outfielder Kyle. It is quite likely that one of the pitchers, Knisely and Kyle will be seen in next Sunday's game with the Cubs, this being the last Sabbath day game on the local lot for some weeks. Both President Herrmann and Manager O'Day are believers in the policy of trying out youngsters in the fall, when they are at their best, and for reason as many new players will be bought on to join the team as can be obtained, and all will be given an opportunity to prove their worth. It is expected that Third Baseman Almeida who has been a sensation in the Southern League this year, will join the team within a few days and make the last Eastern trip as a regular member of the team.

The Chicago's have made no gains on the New Yorks during the past week, and for that reason their prospects for finishing in first place are being reduced. While it is still possible for the Cubs to overtake the Giants, the class of work that Chance's men have been doing recently is not of a kind that will accomplish this. The New Yorks, while not playing up to their form of earlier in the season, still are winning a sufficient number of games to maintain a respectable margin between them and their closest pursuers. The Pittsburghs may be counted out of the race entirely, and must be satisfied with third place. In the American League the Bostonians have materially increased their lead during the week, so that there is little or no doubt that they will be contenders in the big series next fall. Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, has made announcement that his team no longer has a chance for the championship, which is a virtual acknowledgement that Boston has the flag cinched.

According to Jim Corbett, ex-champion of the heavyweights, Al Palzer, the Iowa giant, is the class of the "white hopes" who now are trying to improve themselves sufficiently to get on a match with Jack Johnson with some reasonable hope of winning. Despite the fact that Johnson has retired again, there is reason to believe that he will jump out of his retirement if given the opportunity to pick up a goodly sized bundle of perfectly obtained American money. Joe Jeannette, the colored fighter, who was touted as the strongest man possible to oppose Johnson, was so thoroughly licked on Labor Day that he passes out of the limelight as a championship possibility.

Our English friends haven't stopped bellowing yet over the victories won by the American athletes in Sweden. Ream after ream of perfectly good paper is being wasted by English writers, who were not at the games, in describing the alleged unfair methods adopted by the American entrants to assist them in bringing home the coonskins. Strange that the representatives of other Nations, as well as the Swedish officials, didn't discover this trickery, isn't it? It has been brought out by these accusations and the answers to them that the English athletes have acted cavalierly toward the Americans in all of the previous Olympic games, indicating that their much-vaunted sportsmanship is easily eclipsed by their envy.

There are those who say that Ad Wolgast is foolish to take on Packy McFarland at 135 pounds, and weigh in at 3 o'clock, for the fight in New York the latter part of this month. It is argued that McFarland will even go so far as to surrender his forfeit in order to weigh in above 135 pounds at the specified time, and that he will weigh 140 or more when he steps into the ring, while Wolgast will not touch 135 pounds. While this will be a big handicap to Wolgast, it will not deprive him of the pleasure of collecting in $22,500 sure money when the fight is over, no matter what the result nor will it deprive him of his title as lightweight champion, as McFarland's weight will put him out of the lightweight class. The fight is a money-making proposition for Wolgast, and he'll get the coin.

An extra session of the Kentucky Legislature is said to be a sure thing.

J. Bruce Ismay testified in Liverpool in the American Government's inquiry into the alleged shipping trust.

The citizens in and around Sharpsburg have subscribed about $2,000 for the purpose of better improving the roads.

A motorcyclist, to be sure, might give the girl behind him some sort of handlebar to cling to, but he usually seems to prefer the hug.

The American Red Cross Society allowed another $1,000 for the purchase of food supplies for the suffering people of Nicaragua.

The Senate Committee yesterday set aside October 21 and 24 on which to have Colonel Roosevelt give his testimony on campaign contributions.

DANGER PERIOD OF WOMANS' LIFE FROM 45 to 50

Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

Asheville, N.C.—"I suffered for years with female trouble while going through the Change of Life. I tried a local physician for a couple of years without any substantial benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I quit my physician and commenced using it with the happiest results. I am today practically a well woman and anxious to contribute my mite towards inducing others to try your great medicine, as I am fully persuaded that it will cure the ailments from which I suffered if given a fair chance.

"If you think this letter will contribute anything towards further introducing your medicines to afflicted women who are passing through this trying period, it is with great pleasure I consent to its publication."—Mrs. JULIA A. MOORE, 17 East St., Asheville, N.C.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin.
Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Before I had taken one half a bottle of it I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life."—Mrs. ALICE KIRLIN, 358 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

The Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. At such times women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Frank Warder, Indicted For House Burning, Skips Out, Forfeiting $300 Cash Bond

Circuit Judge Newell yesterday ordered that the $300 cash bond given by Frank Warder, indicted for setting fire to and destroying a dwelling house in this county, be forfeited to the Commonwealth as the said Warder failed to appear for trial on the day set.

IMMORAL

Are Prevailing Fashions of Women's Clothes, Says Zanesville Priest, Who Threatens to Name Women of Congregation

Father Barr, assistant at St. Nicholas Catholic Church of Zanesville, delivered a scathing denunciation from the pulpit at high mass Sunday morning of the styles of women's clothing to be seen nowadays on the streets of Zanesville. Many of the attires of the beautiful sex were declared to have reached the pinnacle of immorality, to be an abomination and danger to womankind. The priest told his congregation that his remarks were meant to be taken personally, and he declared that if mothers of St. Nicholas parish did not take their daughters' street dress in hand and reform it he would personally single out those whose attire is vulgar.

The assistant pointed to the evils of the present customary extreme styles of dress and impressed upon the congregation the dangers of following the extremes laid down by the dressmaker. "Such attire is but conducive of vice."

"Worse than the bathing suits at the seashore," Father Barr declared were many of the dresses to be seen on Zanesville streets. He called upon mothers and fathers in the parish to take this matter to heart and said some of the Zanesville girls wear less on the street than they would at the bathing beach. "Young girls must face enough temptations placed in their paths without adding to those temptations," he declared, "and the styles seen on Zanesville streets those days lead to new temptations. Fathers and mothers should steer their girls away rather than into dangers."

If parents of St. Nicholas do not see that their daughters dress more modestly on the streets, Father Barr said he would take the matter in charge himself and would stop any young girls of the congregation which he happened to see on the streets in the objectionable dresses now in vogue, and would send them home to get on some decent clothes.

Father Barr's crusade against the present models came unexpectedly and sank deeply in the minds of the congregation. Similar condemnation for the women's dresses of the day have been heard over the country, but the styles only seem to grow worse day by day. From numerous pulpits the same condemnation of Dame Fashion has gone forth, and the crusade has begun to assume shape.

What's The Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more the matter with it than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. S. Adams, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. L. M. Boyce, Tip Top, Ky., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from gripping stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century. Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

BESSIE GERTRUDE FAUL

Bessie Gertrude Paul was born September 30th, 1886, at Germantown, Ky., and died August 25th, 1912, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Paul of Pleasant Ridge, aged 25 years, 11 months and 21 days.

Bessie was a companionable and promising young lady who possessed many admirable traits of character that were entirely unknown to the community. She confessed Christianity under the preaching of Rev. E. R. Overly of the Third Street M. E. Church and was a consistent member of that body. All that was mortal of Bessie has left us, yet her memory still remains; the vacant chair, the broken link of the family circle are the pleasant reminders of the departed. May the turf rest lightly o'er her grave.

A FRIEND.

STIMSON DENOUNCES ROOSEVELT

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., September 5th.—Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, who was Theodore Roosevelt's candidate for Governor of New York two years ago, announced here today that he is opposed to the candidacy of the Bull Moose. He said:

"There is no justification or reason or need for Theodore Roosevelt in this day and generation. He has done more harm to the advancement of pure political and better governmental conditions than any other man or combination of men that has intermeddled in political and governmental affairs in a great many years."

Steel Tube Bed

SQUARE TUBING

Price $

Do you see how the square cross-rod at top of head and foot beautify this bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?

It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.

Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.

A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.
